Who am I?

Currently, I am in the final semester of the Computer Systems Engineering program at ESCOM IPN, supplemented by a technical certification in Digital Graphic Design. My self-taught approach and discipline have been fundamental pillars in my academic and professional trajectory. I feel a great enthusiasm for tackling challenges and acquiring new knowledge. This proactive mindset has allowed me to approach projects with determination and perseverance.

Experience

Independent: Kronos Creations

I developed the corporate identity for Kronos Creations, a design studio. My responsibilities included creating the logo, devising a marketing plan, designing the website, and producing corporate items using the screen printing technique.

Independent: Proyecto HeyU!

I developed an educational platform for learning English that involved creating the brand, implementing marketing strategies, adapting study materials to the corporate style, and creating a comprehensive website offering all collected resources for language learning. This also involved designing a responsive layout suitable for various devices.
